INTERNATIONAL

*A family owned company
since 1981*

Now more than ever, our healthcare spaces need to be welcoming, uplifting and efficient to truly support the healing process of every user. Caregivers, patients, family and guests all have different needs from these environments – all equally important in keeping the overall system focused on wellbeing and healing.

Areas of respite are crucial for caregivers so they can focus on their own wellness so they can continue providing elevated care. Spaces that allow patients to have a sense of control can positively impact their own healing process. Comfortable, secure public areas for family and friends help offer them a sense of home so they too can have a space to relax and recharge.

For every space needed in our healthcare environments, we've designed ERG products to be inclusive to support overall health and wellbeing of caregivers, patients, family and friends.
